

Privacy Policy

The information we collect about you:

Through our website, we may collect the following information about you:

Registration - When you sign up to use our sites or services you may be required to provide information about yourself, such as your name, mobile number and e-mail id.

Signing in - To access some OSHB Me services, you will need to sign in with a email id or mobile number and password, which we refer to as your user account.

Using our Sites and Services - We collect information that tells us how you interact with our services, including the browser you're using, your IP address, cookies or other unique IDs, the pages you visit and features you use.

How we collect:

We use a number of ways to gather information about how you use our sites and services, such as:

Web forms, such as when you type information into a registration form/login page or type a search query into a search box.

Technologies like cookies to count the number of unique visitors to a web page or service or to develop other aggregate statistics about the operations of our sites and services.

Web logging, which enables us to collect the standard information your browser sends to every website you visit - such as your IP address, browser type and language, and the site you came from - as well as the pages you visit and the links you click while using our sites and services.

Protecting your information

We have appropriate technical and organizational measures in place to prevent the loss, misuse or alteration of your personal information.

Any personal information you provide to us is stored securely on password and firewall protected servers and all website transactions are protected using Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) encryption technology.

However, the Internet is not generally a secure medium for communication and therefore we cannot guarantee the security of any information you send to us over the Internet.
